

BERRYLOID

The Supreme Lacquer Finish for Motor Cars and Airplanes

Save the surface and you save all.

92%
of all the planes in the National Air Tour are protected with.....

Berry Brothers' Finishes

How the Planes are Finished

- Buhl Air-Sedan Berryloid and Lionoll
- Alexander Eaglerock Berryloid and Lionoll (two planes)
- Hurd Monoplane Berryloid and Lionoll
- Pitcairn PA-5 Berryloid
- Aerial Service, Mercury MW-3 Berryloid
- Cleveland Pneumatic, Waco-10 Berryloid
- Advance Aircraft, Waco-10 Berryloid (four planes)
- Stinson-Detroit Berryloid and Lionoll (two planes)
- National Airways, Air-King-27 Berryloid and Lionoll
- American Eagle—1927 Berryloid
- Kreider-Reisner, Challenger Berryloid and Lionoll
- Curtis-Wright Sportster Berryloid and Lionoll
- Curtis-Wright Air Coach Berryloid and Lionoll
- Hess Blue Bird—H-2 Berryloid
- Ryan Brougham Berryloid
- Ford-Stout All-Metal Plane Lionoll Prussian Blue
- Stinson-Detroit Monoplane Berryloid and Lionoll

Wchita today welcomes an aerial caravan that foreshadow s a new era of commercial transportation. This remarkable fleet of airplanes, competing in the third annual National Air Tour for the Edsel Ford reliability trophy, is scheduled to arrive at 10:15 a. m. All but two of the 24 craft entered in this 4,000-mile flight are protected with Berry Brothers' finishes—among them, Berryloid, the high-luster lacquer used on fine motor cars here and abroad. Ninety-five per cent of America's commercial airplane manufacturers use these same products because of their unequalled durability. Guesswork has no standing in the aeronautical industry. This explains the almost unanimous preference exhibited for finishes made by Berry Brothers.

For durability and economy you should use Berry Brothers' varnishes, enamels and lacquers. For your car, specify Berryloid; for floors, Liquid Granite; for woodwork, Luxeberry Enamel; for exposed surfaces and cement work, Lionoll Floor Enamel; for household purposes, Berry's Brushing Lacquer.

BERRY BROTHERS INC.

Varnishes Enamels & Lacquers

Detroit, Mich. Walkerville, Ont.

*Travel Air, Swallow and Cessna Aircraft
 Use Berry Brothers' Finishes*